Foreword By Network Partners Hill Dickinson

Hill Dickinson is proud to once again sponsor the Small Cap Awards 2026. As a leading adviser on equity capital markets transactions, we act for a substantial number of quoted companies across the Main Market, AIM and Aquis. Over the past year, we have continued to advise on a broad spectrum of transactions, including IPOs, reverse takeovers, secondary fundraises and strategic M&A, supporting our clients as they seize opportunities in an evolving market. In the latest Corporate Advisers Rankings Guide (CARG), Hill Dickinson is ranked first across all three of London's equity capital markets in terms of number of clients. This is something we are enormously proud of, and it is a testament to both our clients and our team.

The small cap sector continues to play a vital role in driving innovation, employment and economic growth. These businesses are ambitious and adaptable, operating at the cutting edge of their respective industries. Public markets remain a critical enabler of that ambition, providing access to capital and supporting companies as they scale.

Encouragingly, the market backdrop over the past 12–18 months has shown clear signs of improvement. While IPO volumes have remained selective, activity has begun to recover, with a steady flow of new admissions to AIM and Aquis in late 2025 and into the first quarter of 2026, alongside a strengthening pipeline of prospective issuers. We have seen this resilience first-hand in transactions we have supported – acting on significant fundraisings, public M&A deals and strategic growth initiatives across a wide range of sectors.

Looking ahead, there is a growing sense of optimism. Regulatory reforms and wider market initiatives are beginning to enhance the attractiveness of the UK's capital markets. Through our involvement with the QCA and other industry bodies, we continue to advocate for further measures to ensure that the UK remains a leading global venue for growth companies.

Against this backdrop, what stands out most clearly is the quality and resilience of the small cap community. The companies represented here tonight are not only navigating a complex external environment but they are thriving within it. They are delivering growth, creating jobs and contributing meaningfully to the UK economy.

We warmly congratulate all of this year's nominees. Your achievements are well deserved, and we wish you every success tonight and in the year ahead.

Foreword By Network Partners HaysMac LLP

The Small Cap Awards continue to be a standout fixture in the calendar; a great opportunity to reconnect with familiar faces, build new friendships and share perspectives as we navigate an increasingly turbulent macro environment.

We can be proud of the vital role the small cap community plays as a driving force within the British economy, and that, to me, is something well worth celebrating. I look forward to doing so with you all this evening.

From a HaysMac perspective, the past year has been incredibly exciting, not least because we have worked with some tremendous businesses and individuals. We have also maintained our seventh-place ranking for the total number of AIM-listed audits, onboarding more new clients than any other UK firm. In addition, we were announced as auditor to the greatest number of UK-listed technology companies, a key area of specialism for us as a firm.

On the topic of specialisms, the HaysMac sector-focused approach continues to align us more closely with our clients' way of thinking, enriching our role as trusted advisors. When we adopted this approach many years ago, we knew we had to fully embrace and live it; not simply pay lip service to it. Today at HaysMac, our teams operate as sector specialists. From Partners through to graduates, we instil the importance of truly understanding our clients and the sectors in which they operate from day one.

In practice, this sector approach gives us real insight into the challenges our clients are facing today, and the issues that may lie ahead. Our sector teams span Media, Marketing & Advertising, Hospitality, Property, Technology, FinTech, Financial Services, Retail & eCommerce, Sports & Leisure, and Life Sciences. All are supported by our growing team of more than 600 people across our London and Cape Town offices.

As a headline sponsor of this evening's event, let me warmly welcome you all. I hope you enjoy the celebrations.

Powering the UK's next generation of public companies

Starting in September 2026, the Aquis IPO Academy is the UK's only public markets readiness programme led by a Stock Exchange.

Created by Aquis in partnership with Barclays Eagle Labs, the Academy is designed for private companies ready to think bigger and take the next step towards the public markets.

Open to ambitious UK businesses, with a strong focus on tech-enabled and female-founded companies, the Aquis IPO Academy is for founders and leadership teams who want to stay in control, fuel their next stage of growth, and build a clear, credible pathway to the public markets.

Through expert-led insight, practical preparation and direct access to the public markets ecosystem of investors and advisers, the Academy will equip high-growth businesses with the clarity, confidence and connections needed to scale successfully.

Our Academy programme will run for six months, with the option of continued membership to support longer-term growth objectives. It is free to attend for eligible companies and combines in-person and online delivery, including four events, workshops, in-depth course materials, mentorship and expert guidance across:

Introduction to Public Markets

Financial Readiness, Governance & Compliance

Valuation & Investment Readiness

Pre-IPO Capital & Funding Pathways

AI, Operations & Risk

Roadshows & Next Steps
